1. Introduction

Teachers Online ("we", "our", or "the Website") uses cookies and similar technologies to support the operation, security, and functionality of our website.

This Cookie Policy explains what cookies are, how we use them, and how visitors can manage them.

This policy should be read alongside our Privacy Policy and Terms and Conditions.

2. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files stored on your device by websites you visit. They allow websites to remember certain information between requests, maintain user sessions, and support website functionality.

Cookies can be classified as:

- Session cookies: Generally expire when you close your browser.
- Persistent cookies: Remain on your device for a specified period or until manually deleted.
- First-party cookies: Set by the website you are visiting.
- Third-party cookies: Set by external services or domains.

3. Cookies We Use

3.1 Essential Session Cookies

Teachers Online uses Flask session cookies to support website functionality.

These cookies may be created when the website needs to store information in a user's session, such as:

- Authentication and login session information.
- User preferences and settings.

- Temporary messages and security-related information.

A session cookie is not necessarily created when someone simply visits or browses the website. It may be created when a particular feature requires session information to be stored.

Our session cookies are configured with the following security attributes:

- Secure: Cookies are transmitted only over secure HTTPS connections.
- HttpOnly: Cookies cannot be accessed directly through browser JavaScript.
- SameSite=Lax: Provides additional protection against certain cross-site request forgery attacks.

Session cookies are intended to expire when the browser session ends.

3.2 Analytics and Advertising Cookies

Teachers Online does not currently use:

- Google Analytics.
- Advertising or marketing tracking cookies.
- Behavioural advertising technologies.
- Third-party analytics tracking services.

If these services are introduced in the future, this policy will be updated accordingly.

4. Third-Party Services and External Resources

Our website loads certain resources from external providers to support its appearance and functionality.

These currently include:

- Google Fonts: Used to load the Poppins typeface.
- jsDelivr: Used to load Bootstrap and Bootstrap Icons.
- Cloudflare CDN: Used to load JavaScript libraries, including JSZip and html2canvas.
- Supabase: May serve profile pictures stored through our profile image service.

Loading these resources may involve requests to external servers. These providers may receive technical information such as IP addresses, browser information, and information about the requested resource.

The use of these external resources does not necessarily mean that third-party cookies are placed on your device.

We do not currently embed third-party video players or social media feeds on our website.

5. Managing Cookies

You can manage or delete cookies through your browser settings.

Most browsers allow you to:

- View cookies stored on your device.
- Delete existing cookies.
- Block cookies from specific websites.
- Block all cookies.
- Configure settings for session and persistent cookies.

Please be aware that blocking essential session cookies may affect certain website features, including authentication, settings, and other functionality that depends on session information.

6. Changes to This Cookie Policy

We may update this Cookie Policy when our website functionality, technologies, or legal requirements change.

Any updates will be published on this page, together with a revised last-updated date.

We encourage visitors to review this policy periodically.
