TEACHERS ONLINE

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Version 1.0

Effective date: 2026/11/20

Document control

Document	Terms and Conditions
Website	https://www.teachersonline.app
Version	1.0
Status	Working draft — not yet approved for publication
Effective date	2026/11/20
Operator	Kayla Brummer
Scope	Current website features only; no community features

Terms and Conditions

Effective date: 2026/11/20

Website: https://www.teachersonline.app

1. About these Terms

1.1 These Terms and Conditions (the “Terms”) govern access to and use of the Teachers Online website at https://www.teachersonline.app (the “Website”), including the educational games and worksheet-generation tools currently made available on it.

1.2 The Website is operated by Kayla Brummer (“Teachers Online”, “we”, “us” or “our”). Our contact details are set out in the Contact section below.

1.3 These Terms are intended to describe the rules that apply to the Website as it currently operates. Features that are not yet available, including a teacher community, user posts, comments, likes, resource uploads and community messaging, are not covered by this version. We may publish additional or revised terms before introducing those features.

1.4 Please read these Terms before using the Website. If you do not agree to them, do not create an account or use any part of the Website that is subject to these Terms.

2. Acceptance and changes to these Terms

2.1 By accessing or using the Website, you confirm that you have read and understood these Terms. If you create an account, you will be asked to actively confirm your agreement during registration.

2.2 We may update these Terms to reflect changes to the Website, our services, legal requirements or business practices. The current version will be published on the Website with its effective date.

2.3 If a change materially affects users, we will take reasonable steps to notify affected account holders before or when the change takes effect. Where required by applicable law, we will obtain renewed consent. Continued use alone will not replace any consent that the law requires us to obtain.

2.4 We recommend that you keep a copy of the Terms that applied when you registered or last accepted an updated version.

3. Who may use Teachers Online

3.1 Teachers Online is designed primarily for teachers, parents and people interested in educational activities. The Website may also provide publicly available educational features, including games, that can be accessed without creating an account.

3.2 You must be at least 14 years old to register for a Teachers Online account or use features that require an account. Users under 14 are not permitted to create an account, even with parental or legal-representative assistance.

3.3 During registration, you must provide your date of birth and confirm that the information you provide is accurate and truthful. We use this information to determine whether you meet the minimum age requirement for account registration.

3.4 You must not provide a false date of birth or use another person's details to bypass the minimum age requirement. We may restrict or close an account if we reasonably believe that it was created or used in breach of these age requirements.

3.5 Parents, guardians and teachers who help children access publicly available features of the Website are responsible for providing appropriate supervision and ensuring that the child's use is suitable and permitted by applicable law.

4. Accounts and account security

4.1 Certain features require you to register an account. You agree to provide accurate, current information and to update it when it changes.

4.2 You are responsible for keeping your login credentials confidential and for activity carried out through your account, except to the extent that applicable law provides otherwise.

4.3 You must notify us promptly if you believe your account has been accessed without permission or your login credentials have been compromised.

4.4 You must not share, sell, transfer or allow another person to use your account in a way that compromises its security or breaches these Terms.

4.5 We may ask you to verify information associated with your account where reasonably necessary for security, account administration or legal compliance.

5. Permitted use and prohibited conduct

5.1 You may use the Website for lawful educational, teaching, learning and personal purposes, subject to these Terms and any instructions or notices displayed for a particular feature.

5.2 You must not: (a) use the Website for an unlawful, fraudulent, harmful or misleading purpose; (b) interfere with or disrupt the Website, its servers or security; (c) attempt to gain unauthorised access to an account, system, database or feature; (d) introduce malware, malicious code or harmful material; (e) scrape, harvest or collect data from the Website by automated means without our written permission; (f) reverse engineer, decompile or attempt to extract source code except where applicable law expressly permits it; (g) overload, probe or test the Website in a way that could impair its operation without our prior written permission; (h) impersonate another person or misrepresent your affiliation with a person or organisation; or (i) use the Website in a way that infringes another person's rights.

5.3 You must not use the Website to distribute spam, unsolicited advertising or promotional material through any feature that permits user input, or to exploit a feature in a way it was not designed to support.

5.4 We may investigate suspected misuse and take proportionate action, including restricting access, suspending an account or reporting conduct to relevant authorities where appropriate or legally required.

6. Educational games

6.1 Teachers Online may make educational games available to visitors, including visitors who do not have an account. Availability may vary by game and may change over time.

6.2 Games are provided for educational and entertainment purposes. Unless a game page states otherwise, game results are not formal assessments and should not be treated as professional, academic or diagnostic advice.

6.3 You may use the games for lawful personal, classroom and educational purposes. You must not copy, modify, redistribute, commercially exploit or create derivative versions of our games or their underlying code, artwork, audio or other assets unless we have given permission or applicable law allows it.

6.4 Some games or assets may be owned by or licensed from third parties. Any additional notices or licence conditions shown for those games or assets also apply.

7. Worksheet generator and generated materials

7.1 The Website may provide a tool that generates worksheets or other educational materials based on information or choices you provide (the “Generated Materials”). The available functions and output may change.

7.2 You are responsible for checking Generated Materials before using them, including checking accuracy, suitability for the learners, age appropriateness, accessibility, spelling, formatting and alignment with your curriculum or teaching objectives.

7.3 Generated Materials are provided as a teaching aid. We do not guarantee that every result will be accurate, complete, error-free, original, suitable for a particular learner or curriculum, or free from third-party rights.

7.4 Subject to any third-party rights, notices or feature-specific restrictions, we permit you to download, print, adapt and use Generated Materials for your own personal and educational activities, including classroom teaching. You must not resell, repackage or commercially redistribute the Website or its generator as a competing product, or claim ownership of Teachers Online software or underlying templates.

7.5 You are responsible for ensuring that any text, images or other material you provide to the generator may lawfully be used for that purpose. Do not submit confidential, sensitive or identifiable personal information about students or other people.

7.6 Nothing in these Terms transfers ownership of intellectual property that belongs to a third party or guarantees that a particular Generated Material qualifies for copyright protection.

8. Intellectual property

8.1 Unless stated otherwise, the Website and its original content, including its branding, logos, design, text, graphics, software, source code, game mechanics as implemented, and other materials, are owned by or licensed to Teachers Online and are protected by applicable intellectual property laws.

8.2 We grant you a limited, personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable and revocable permission to access and use the Website for its intended purposes in accordance with these Terms. This permission does not give you ownership of the Website or its content.

8.3 You must not use the Teachers Online name, logo or branding in a way that suggests endorsement, affiliation or permission without our prior written consent.

8.4 Third-party names, logos, content and materials remain the property of their respective owners and may be subject to separate licence terms.

9. Third-party services and external links

9.1 The Website may rely on third-party providers to support functions such as hosting, authentication, email delivery, analytics or other technical services. Those providers may process information as described in our Privacy Policy.

9.2 The Website may contain links to external websites or services. We do not control those services and are not responsible for their content, security, availability, terms or privacy practices.

9.3 A link to a third-party website does not mean that Teachers Online endorses it. You access third-party services at your own discretion and should review their terms and privacy policies.

10. Availability, maintenance and changes to the Website

10.1 We aim to keep the Website available, but we do not guarantee uninterrupted, secure or error-free access. The Website may be unavailable because of maintenance, updates, technical problems, outages or circumstances outside our reasonable control.

10.2 We may add, change, suspend or discontinue a feature, game or service. Where reasonably practicable, we will provide notice of significant changes that materially affect account holders.

10.3 We may apply reasonable technical limits to protect the Website, its users and its infrastructure.

11. Disclaimers and limitation of liability

11.1 To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Website and its features are provided on an “as available” basis. We make no promise that the Website will meet every user's requirements or that every feature or Generated Material will be uninterrupted, accurate or suitable for a particular purpose.

11.2 You remain responsible for decisions made using the Website and for reviewing educational materials before using them with learners.

11.3 Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits a right, remedy, warranty or liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited. In particular, these Terms do not limit liability where doing so would be prohibited by applicable consumer-protection or other mandatory law.

11.4 To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, Teachers Online will not be liable for indirect or consequential loss, loss of profits, loss of business opportunity, loss of data or reputational loss arising from use of, or inability to use, the Website. This clause does not apply where such exclusion is prohibited by law.

11.5 Subject to clause 11.3, and to the extent permitted by applicable law, our total liability arising out of or in connection with the Website will be limited to the amount, if any, you paid directly to Teachers Online for the relevant service during the twelve months before the event giving rise to the claim. If you have paid nothing, any applicable statutory rights and liabilities remain unaffected. This clause must be reviewed for enforceability before publication.

12. Suspension and termination

12.1 You may stop using the Website at any time. If account deletion is available through your account settings, you may use that function; otherwise, contact us using the details below to request account deletion.

12.2 We may restrict, suspend or terminate access to an account or feature where we reasonably believe that: (a) these Terms have been breached; (b) the account presents a security or legal risk; (c) the account was created using materially false information; (d) we are required to do so by law or a competent authority; or (e) action is reasonably necessary to protect the Website or its users.

12.3 Where reasonably practicable and lawful, we will provide notice and an opportunity to address the issue before taking action. We may act without advance notice where urgent action is needed for security, safety, legal compliance or to prevent harm.

12.4 Termination does not affect rights or obligations that arose before termination or provisions that by their nature should continue to apply.

13. Privacy and personal information

13.1 Our Privacy Policy explains how Teachers Online collects, uses, stores, shares and otherwise processes personal information. It also explains applicable user rights and how to contact us about privacy matters.

13.2 The Privacy Policy forms a separate document and should be read alongside these Terms. If there is a conflict concerning the handling of personal information, the applicable privacy law and the Privacy Policy will govern that subject to mandatory legal requirements.

13.3 Do not use the Website to submit personal information about students, children or other people unless you have a lawful basis and have complied with all applicable notice, consent and safeguarding requirements.

14. Governing law and disputes

14.1 These Terms and any non-contractual obligations arising out of them are intended to be governed by the laws of the Republic of Korea, unless mandatory law requires otherwise.

14.2 If you have a concern or dispute, please contact us first so that we can try to resolve it informally. Nothing in this clause prevents you from exercising any right to bring a complaint or claim before a regulator, consumer body or court with jurisdiction under applicable law.

14.3 Any court or dispute-resolution provision in the final published Terms must be consistent with mandatory consumer-protection rules and applicable jurisdiction requirements.

15. General provisions

15.1 If any provision of these Terms is found to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions will continue to apply to the extent permitted by law.

15.2 If we do not enforce a provision immediately, this does not mean that we waive our right to enforce it later.

15.3 You may not transfer your rights or obligations under these Terms without our prior written consent. We may transfer our rights and obligations as part of a business reorganisation or transfer, subject to applicable law and any required notice.

15.4 These Terms, together with any feature-specific terms and the Privacy Policy, describe the terms governing your use of the Website. They do not remove any rights you have under mandatory applicable law.

16. Contact Teachers Online

16.1 If you have questions about these Terms, please contact us:

Business / operator: Kayla Brummer

Email: officialteachersonline@gmail.com

Website: https://www.teachersonline.app

End of document